

Stream 1 – First Nations

January 2026

What is the current opportunity?

Housing Australia has opened its largest funding round under the Housing Australia Future Fund (HAFF), inviting submissions to boost the supply of social and affordable housing nationwide. This round will unlock investment to deliver the remaining 21,350 dwellings, helping achieve the national target of 40,000 homes by 2029. All funding streams will be open for submissions from 30 January 2026.

What is the First Nations Stream?

Stream 1 – First Nations is dedicated to First Nations-led housing providers, with $600m in funding to deliver social homes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australians. This Stream is designed for First Nations organisations to deliver safe, accessible, and culturally appropriate housing, with allocated funding and tailored program design. It aims to increase home ownership among First Nations housing providers and address the unique housing needs of First Nations communities.

Who is eligible to apply for Stream 1?

Stream 1 is available to First Nations housing providers. A First Nations housing provider must have the primary purpose of improving housing outcomes for Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people and be a registered charity.

In addition, State and Territory governments are also eligible, noting that they must partner with a First Nations housing provider.

Are First Nations entities eligible to apply for other funding streams?

Applicants can apply for other funding streams if they meet the eligibility criteria. A summary of eligibility across the funding streams is shown in the table below.

Note: An applicant cannot submit the same project or site in multiple Streams.

What type of funding is available?

There are 3 funding products that Applicants can request to support projects.

Availability Payment

Grants that help close the gap between the cost of financing, operating and maintaining social and affordable housing and the revenue received from below-market rents. These occur once dwellings are operational.

Concessional Loan

Long-term, interest-free debt product which helps to fund the capital cost of the dwellings.

Senior Debt

A first mortgage loan for a term of 25 years with amortised or interest-only payments and is repayable in full at maturity. In some instances a further Stretch Senior debt tranche can be offered.

What is the application process?

Round 3 is a non-competitive, open process under which applications may be submitted at any time over the life of the Funding Round (where allocations remain available).

The application process involves 2 stages:

Stage 1 – Expression of Interest (EOI)

Applicants answer a series of questions assessed against eligibility and evaluation criteria. Successful EOI applicants will be invited to submit a Detailed Application, with funding reserved at this stage.

Stage 2 – Detailed Application

A more comprehensive assessment requiring detailed responses and supporting evidence. This stage focuses on financial evaluation of all funding products applied for, including a credit assessment of the Concessional Loan and HAFF Senior Debt. Preferred applicants will then proceed to contract close.
